

Do you need a Chinese Visa?

If you use a Travel Agent, then they will probably arrange the visa for you, however you might consider doing this yourself, as comments from some RTTC members indicated it is cheaper to do your own application.

If you fly 'Return' to China, you require a Visa. However if you fly, say Adelaide – Sydney – Shanghai then return Shanghai to a 3rd country (HK & Macau are included) then you are OK.

When you arrive at Shanghai airport, follow the Transit Visa signage to Immigration. You will need to complete 'the blue' form.
